Community Sergeant Update

PS Stephen Granger

August has been another busy month which has seen a further easing of restrictions, the return of the hospitality sector, extended licensing hours and larger organised events. Schools have also returned and next month will also see students returning to their universities.

Unfortunately the COVID case numbers that we are seeing at the moment is still a cause for concern given that in the last 7 days case numbers have roughly doubled. The safety of everyone is the most important factor and it is vital that we all remember the virus has not gone away and still poses a significant risk to public health and our return to a more normal way of life.

Even basic steps such as wearing face coverings on public transport, opening a window if you have someone in your house to make sure there is good ventilation can still make a big difference.

Please also remember it is still a requirement to wear face coverings in certain indoor public places, such as shops, public transport and when entering and moving about in hospitality settings.

Whilst on the hospitality and retail theme August has also seen a new law come into force in Scotland to provide specific protection for retail workers – it is called the Protection of Workers Act 2021.

It will make it an offence to assault or behave in a threatening or abusive way towards a retail worker. A 'retail worker' could be someone who works or volunteers in a shop, shopping centre or supermarket. They might be delivering groceries to a house or selling alcohol in a bar.

Assaulting, threatening or being abusive to a retail worker for enforcing age restriction laws e.g. IDing someone trying to buy alcohol, will become an aggravated charge - that means a person convicted may get a tougher penalty. Retail workers are an important part of the community, this new law is being introduced to give them greater protection.

Student Safety

Starting university or college can mean some significant life changes - making new friends, studying in a new town, going out to new places and living independently for the first time. However, some of these changes could also increase your risk of becoming a victim of crime.

Start out in the safest way possible, take some simple steps to protect yourself and your property, and above all keep safe.

Finally, of significant concern in recent weeks has been the spate of wilful fire raisings which have taken place in Walkerburn and involved significant damage to a number of motor vehicles. I can confirm that a male was arrested in relation to these offences, subsequently charged and appeared at Edinburgh Sheriff Court on 30/08/21. Extra police patrols will continue in Walkerburn to offer reassurance but I would ask residents to remain vigilant and report any suspicious activity to police.

Local Policing Priorities

1. Protecting most vulnerable
2. Reducing violence and Anti-Social Behaviour
3. Reducing acquisitive crime
4. Improving road safety
5. Tackling serious and organised crime

County Lines and Cuckooing Drug Dealing Inputs

- Inputs have been given to a wide range of staff from SBHA, Eildon Housing, Berwickshire Housing and Waverly Housing to increase awareness of and encourage reporting of County Lines and Cuckooing activities in their properties. <https://crimestoppers-uk.org/about-the-charity/who-we-work-with/trusts-and-foundations/county-lines>

County Lines and Cuckooing

What are County Lines?

- County Lines is a term used for organised drug-dealing networks, usually controlled by a person using a single telephone number or 'deal line'.
- They operate in major cities such as Liverpool, Manchester and Birmingham, and distribute drugs across counties via 'runners'.
- Vulnerable children and adults are recruited as runners to transport drugs and cash all over the country, so that the criminals behind it can remain detached and less likely to be detected.

What is 'Cuckooing'?

- Criminals running County Lines will set up a base in a rural area or small town for a short time, taking over the home of a vulnerable person, 'cuckooing' them (named after the cuckoo's practice of taking over other birds' nests for its young).
- Victims of 'cuckooing' are often drug users but can include older people, those suffering from mental or physical health problems, female sex workers, single mums and those living in poverty. Victims may suffer from other forms of addiction, such as alcoholism.
- Some people may be forced to leave their homes, making themselves homeless and leaving the gangs free to sell drugs in their absence.
